The rally took place at the Midland Fairgrounds.

Buckfire Law Attorneys Win Settlement For The Wrongful Death Of Motorcycle Passenger

Our Buckfire Law accident attorneys recently settled a wrongful death lawsuit relating to a passenger death in an Ionia County motorcycle accident. The case was filed on behalf of the surviving family members of a 43 year old woman who was killed in the accident. The accident victim was a passenger on her husband's motorcycle and was thrown off of the bike when a deer ran out of a cornfield and into their lane of travel. This happened during the twilight hours, just after sunset.

While in the roadway, several other automobiles were able to observe the situation. Because they were driving at an appropriate speed and properly observing the roadway, they were able to avoid striking the motorcyclist and his wife. However, one driver was not paying attention and struck her. The driver claimed that he was driving carefully and within the speed limit.

We thoroughly investigated the wrongful death claim on behalf of the family and were able to build a strong case of negligence against the driver who struck her. This included interviewing and taking depositions of all the witnesses, downloading the black box information from the defendant's vehicle to determine speed and braking distance, and consulting with an accident reconstruction expert.

The lawsuit was filed in the Ionia County Circuit Court in Ionia, Michigan. The case settled for $485,000.00. This settlement did not include claims made under the Michigan No-Fault act for funeral expenses, lost wages, and loss of services. We obtained these benefits directly from the defendant's insurance company.

Importance of Custom Parts and Equipment Coverage On Bike Policy

Most motorcycle accidents cause significant damage not only to the riders, but to the motorcycles as well. It is safe to say that in accidents where a car or truck is involved with the motorcycle, in addition to injuries like fractured bones, bulging discs, and road rash on the rider, there is usually damage to the motorcycle like busted frames, broken lights, and scratches to the paint job on the bike. The Michigan No Fault Act provides for payment of the riders medical expenses incurred to mend their injuries. However, contrary to what many riders believe, the No Fault Act does not provide for payment to mend the damages done to your bike.

The Michigan No Fault Act provides for payment of many types of benefits arising from a motorcycle versus motor vehicle accident, such as payment of the injured riders medical expenses, wage loss, attendant care, and replacement services, and it also allows the injured rider to make a claim against the at fault driver for pain and suffering. However, the No Fault Act does not provide for any payment regarding damage to the motorcycle.

You may ask, "What about the mini tort claim?" The mini tort claim is the small exception to the general rule. The No Fault Act does allow a person to recover up to $500.00 in damages to his/her motor vehicle from the at fault driver to the extent such damages are not covered by insurance. These claims are required to be brought in small claims court and are recoverable so long as the Court finds the at fault driver more than 50% at fault for the accident.

However, this right to claim up to $500.00 in damage to the motor vehicle does not apply to motorcycles! Back in 1986, our Michigan Court of Appeals held that the mini tort provision applies only to damages to "motor vehicles" which as that term is used in the No Fault act does not include "motorcycles".

This means that any claim for damage to the motorcycle will be handled exclusively by, and per the terms of, your contract of motorcycle insurance. That is why it is important to carry motorcycle insurance that provides adequate protections and coverage regarding the damage to your motorcycle in the event that you are in an accident.

It is becoming more and more common for motorcyclists to purchase modifications to their motorcycles subsequent to purchasing the motorcycle itself. Whether it is custom pipes, trike conversions, cb radio or even a custom paint job, many motorcyclists enjoy customizing their motorcycle. Likewise, many motorcyclists add accessories to their motorcycles like saddlebags, backrests, seats and the like. Anyone who has done this type of work to their bike will tell you that it can be very costly not only to purchase but to replace in the event of an accident.

For this reason, you want to make sure that your motorcycle insurance will cover not only damage to the motorcycle as purchased, but also damage to the aftermarket modifications and accessories added after the motorcycle left the factory floor. Many policies denote this as accessory coverage or custom parts and equipment (CPE) coverage.

Ask Dondi, Dan, and George: Your Motorcycle Legal Experts

Q: If I am riding my motorcycle on a road trip and am hit by a negligent driver in an automobile outside the State of Michigan, can I still qualify for no fault insurance benefits?

Dondi: Yes. Even though the motorcycle crash happened outside the State of Michigan, you can claim no fault benefits from the insurer of the car or truck if it is a Michigan vehicle, or from the insurer of any car or truck which you are insured by. If you are not covered by a Michigan car insurance policy, and are in a motorcycle vs. car accident outside of Michigan, you will not be able to receive no fault benefits.

Q: Can I still receive no fault benefits even if I was at fault and caused the accident?

George: Yes. You can receive all eligible benefits even if you were at fault in the accident. This is true even if you injured another person in the accident, or even if you were under the influence of alcohol at the time of the accident. An insurance company cannot deny your benefits if the accident was your fault.
